Dear ONS members:

As Chief of the Ojibway Nation of Saugeen, I again call on all our members to join together in collaborative discussions to resolve differences regarding the future of our community. I will be back in the community full-time soon. Thank you for your well wishes as I heal from my recent surgery.

I understand that some of our members are planning to hold a meeting in the community on Saturday July 6, 2019, to install themselves as Chief and Headmen. Your sitting government will not recognize such unlawful actions.

As I mentioned in my last communications with you, we are in the midst of a court process and have received direction from the court to work collaboratively to resolve our differences. I would ask us all to respect this process as it unfolds.
